Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 7/13/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. After thoroughly review the applicant's remark, the examiner concurs that the rejections with respect to claim 1-7 is not fully anticipated. However, the claim language of claims 8-10 is much broader than claims 1, 6 and 7 and the prior art of record teaches all the limitations of claims 8-10, therefore the rejection with respect to claims 8-10 is sustained.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 8-10 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wallentin et al (US006230013B1) in view of and Rahman (US006078817A).

Wallentin discloses a method of changing the connection parameters in a cellular system (see column 3 and lines 52-column 4 and line 15) comprising: terminal (see figure 1A and item MS), base station (see figure 1A and item 26), and radio network controllers (see figure 1A and item 22), a radio network controller provides a base station with transmission power controlling information (see figure 1A and item 28), a macro diversity connection is established where a given branch goes between the serving radio network control and the terminal through the drift radio network controller and the drift base station and changing the call connection parameters (see column 3 and lines 33-48)

Art Unit: 2682

Wallentin et al doesn't disclose a method of observing that the drift radio network controller load control demands a change in the connection parameters of the terminal which is communicating through the base station that operates under it.

Rahman discloses a radio network controller monitors and balances the use of radio resources in the base stations that operate under it (see column 3 and lines 14-60).

It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching Rahman with Wallentin's method such that base station's limited radio resource would not be overloaded by macro diversity mode.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-7 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: see applicant's remark, filed on 7/16/04, and third paragraph.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
